

Many classes at Gold Academy participated in activities to learn about our country's democratic election process. Miss Klaussen's class participated in a mock election, complete with voter registration cards and ballots to vote. They received "I voted" sticker replicas as well. Mrs. Gaither's class read all about the election and has their own mock election as well. Miss Bagosy's classes learned about both Presidential candidates and participated in compare/contrast activities. Mrs. Stevens' class learned all about the electoral process and studied the mathematics connection to the election. The 6th graders participated in a mock election to elect their favorite school lunch. Classrooms had different numbers of electoral votes based on enrollment. All procedures were followed such as poll watcher, ballot counters, and secret voting. By the way, pepperoni pizza was, of course, the winning lunch!
